Parent/guardian, please initial each of the following:

____ Practice quizzes will be available ahead of time to assist students in studying. These practice quizzes will not be given out during class, they can only be accessed online. They will be available at: mamackay.weebly.com. Click on the class, then look to the sidebar on the right-hand side.

____ No late homework will be accepted after the student has taken a test or formal quiz over the material. Late homework that is accepted before that time will be deducted by 20 points. Homework is due by the beginning of class. After collection, the homework is considered late.

____ Students who do not put time and effort into their homework are unlikely to obtain a satisfactory grade. This is because the homework is a major component of their 9 weeks grade and because the student will not be prepared for assessments.

____ Formal quizzes and tests may be corrected within 7 days of the student receiving the assessment back. Formal quizzes can be corrected for full credit, tests may be corrected for half credit. Both require an explanation to me of their mistakes during tutorial time. Quiz/test corrections will not be addressed during class. (Pre-AP Pre-Calculus and AP Calculus students may do quiz/test corrections for grades of 70 or above online by submitting the corrections to me in an e-mail.)

____ Absences should be addressed by the student. You may check the web site to see what you may have missed. Formal quizzes and tests must be scheduled and made up within 1 week of returning from an absence. After that point, they will be marked with a zero in the grade book. Homeworks during absences will also not be accepted after the student has taken a formal quiz or test over that material. If there are complications in scheduling, please speak with me.

I have reviewed the rest of the syllabus with my child and if I have any questions, I will contact the teacher for more information. If I wish to have a copy of this form, I may access it online at mamackay.weebly.com under the "Contact Me" tab.
